Linden Rayton: “Hot Day, Cool River”

Wednesday, July 16, 1:30-2:30 pm

Wear bathing suits and bring your curiosity for an exploration of the Warner River with local naturalist and educator Linden Rayton of Living Water Nature Programs, LLC. Wear bathing suits, water shoes, and bring your curiosity for an exploration of the Warner River. We'll meet at Riverside Park and spend an hour discovering the newts, frogs and insects that call this river home. Bring a net or use one provided. We'll enjoy a cool river on a hot day! Program is rain or shine, canceled for heavy rain and/or hazardous weather. (Families welcome to join.)

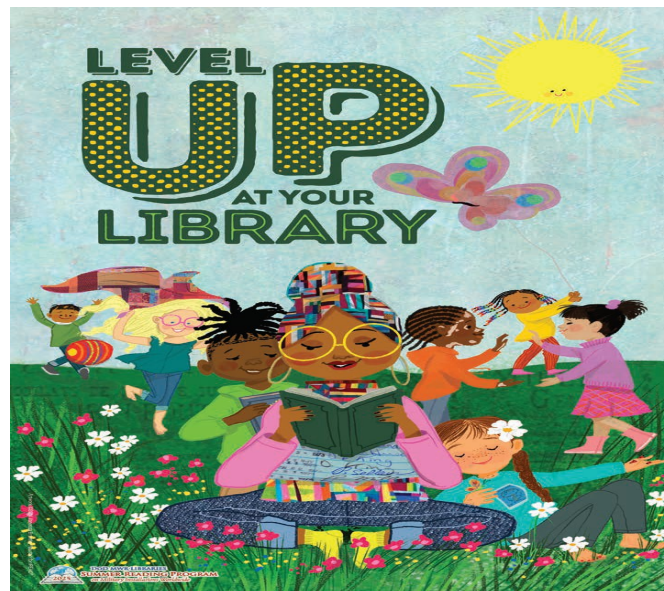

Linden Rayton: “Animal Adaptations For The Win”

Wednesday, July 23, 1:30-2:30 pm

Help your assigned animal win new, special adaptations by correctly answering nature trivia questions! Collect adaptations that help it thrive in habitats across the earth, such as Night Vision or Arctic Fur; or have some fun and collect adaptations like Fancy Sneakers. When trivia is over, we'll draw pictures of our adapted animals and compare them across different habitats and see how their survival has improved.
